Clinique Consultant Talent Award

Description: Clinique consultants are required to meet rigorous standards and expectations in the workplace. Each consultant is personally evaluated on their individual talents and professional performance. In March of 2013, my team was recognized by Clinique executives for our individual attributes and career contributions. This is the certificate I was awarded in recognition of my personal talents and abilities.

THE SCIENCE OF TALENT®

Erica Torre

You Bring Your Best to Everyone You Touch

Uniquely yours at Clinique, we selected you because you have these strengths:

You make a terrific "first impression" by your bubbling personality and your upbeat and optimistic attitude.
You understand and uphold the company's mission through wanting to do what's right versus easy; will defend principles and standing up for what you believe.
You embrace and own sales goals by being competitive and being one of the part time top performers in the district!
You deliver the highest level of customer service by listening for hidden needs and creating the Lovemark with your team and clients!
