
Prague Freedom Foundation Scholar Award

Description: During the summer semester of 2013, I applied to and was awarded a scholarship by the Prague Freedom Foundation to study abroad in Prague, Czech Republic. I was recognized as a PFF Scholar and a Vaclav Havel Ambassador. While in Prague, I conducted interviews and collected research to complete a cross-cultural comparison of the Czech Republic and United States educational systems. In addition to my individual research, my classmates and I made several visits to institutions and organizations to study the concept of media and democracy.
